 Exhibition of the Mart Stam Fellowship

The map as an outline for projections: plans and treasures, landscapes and bodies, the earthly, the alien, the whole, extracts, details, an overall view, detached and close.

„If you open your legs so much as to decrease your height 1/14 and spread and raise your arms till your middle fingers touch the level of the top of your head, you must know that the centre of the outspread limbs will be in the navel and the space between the legs will be an equilateral triangle.“

Leonardo da Vinci,
 Vitruv's scheme of proportions, about 1492"

„There is no system that has not another system concealed within it.“
